DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

The IDS of 5/4/005 has been reviewed and made of record.

Claim Objections

Claims 3,6 are objected to because of the following informalities:

The above noted claims refer to "the folder"; however, such phrase finds no prior antecedent support. Appropriate correction is required.

Claims 4-6 are duplicative of claims 1-3. The examiner does not impart any patentable weight to the phrase "as a kit".

As far as the claims recite positive limitations, the following rejections are made.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

1. Claims 2 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter, which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. In particular, these claims recite/refer to interactive steps that are not disclosed in the remainder of the specification. Hence, these claims fall accordingly.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 2627

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
  2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
  3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
  4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.
2. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Nelson('210) considered with Bankhead and all considered with the acknowledged prior art.

The examiner interprets the term "menu" of claim 1 as being a folder for storing particular items.

Such "folders" are well known – see the ('210) Nelson et al reference, for instance figures 1-5 in the document. This folder is used to store selected items, as well as having transparent pockets inserts are provided. These items are photographs.

Inserts, and holders for cds/DVDs are well known as taught by the Bankhead reference – see the entire document.

It would have been obvious to modify the base system of Nelson et al with the above teaching from Bankhead so as to have an album for cds, as opposed to photographs. Album containing desired objects is considered an obvious modification predicated on a users desire.

The use of a data processing unit/computer for printing information is taught by the acknowledged prior art as discussed by applicant in the specification.

It would have been obvious to modify the above references/systems with this additional teaching, so as to have a computerized system for proving the "source" of the information to be printed on the insert.

Such modernization is considered a driving force for any users so as to have a customized album.

3. Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the art as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Official notice.

Art Unit: 2627

The described "folder" is considered well known in the album/display arts and Official notice is taken thereof.

It would have been obvious to modify the base system as described above with respect to claim 1 and further with the well known album, displays so as to reduce the overall footprint of the album.

3. Claims 4 and 6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over the art as applied to claims 1 and 3 and further with the known ability of having "kits".

Claim 4 is a duplicate of claim 1, with the exception of the term "kit".

The ability of providing "kits" to users containing the subject matter of claim 1 is considered merely a "marketing" /business model, i.e., proving such elements in a "kit" form so as to sell them to customers. Such kits would inherently appeal to those individuals who have a collection of cds/DVDs and desire to have a central location of such in an "album".

Claim 6 is a duplicate of claim 3 and falls for the reasons further discussed above with respect to claim 3.

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. Lane – for an optical storage medium album. This reference can be relied upon in place of the base reference to Nelson et al in the above rejection.

The remaining prior art is cited as illustrative of prior art album pages in this environment.
